Who Benefits by High Prices?

You feel that retail meat prices are too high.

Your retailer says he has to pay higher prices to the packers.

Swift & Company prove that out of every dollar the retailer pays to the packers for meat, 2 cents is for packers' profit, 13 cents is for operating expenses, and 85 cents goes to the stock raiser; and that the prices of live stock and meat move up and down together.

The live-stock raiser points to rising costs of raising live stock.

Labor reminds us that higher wages must go hand in hand with the new cost of living.

No one, apparently, is responsible. No one, apparently, is benefited by higher prices and higher income.

We are all living on a high-priced scale. One trouble is, that the number of dollars has multiplied faster than the quantity of goods, so that each dollar buys less than formerly.

OOFITE" ONE-PLY ROOFING

Some women have skin of such texture they occasionally are annoyed by the sudden appearance of freekles, slight eruptions or fine lines. March winds usually play havoc with skins of that kind. In such cases if one will procure an ounce of common mercolized wax at any drug store, apply a little of it before retiring, like cold cream, she can easily overcome the trouble. When the wax is washed off the next morning, flaky skin particles come with it. The entire outer cuticle is removed in this way in a week or so, with all its defects. No bleach could so effectually remove freekles or blemishes. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking. No harm or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.

For deep wrinkles or crowsfeet, a solution of powdered saxolite, one ounce dissolved in a half pint of witch basel, makes a face bath which is wonderfully effective.

Former President Taff expresses ex-actly the sentiment of the unselfish naions at the peace conference when he says "several distinguished senators have gaid that the proposition of s eague of nations can be taken un later They think that on some fine summer day, when everything else has been cleared off the board—somebody, I do not know just when—will alt down and make up the league."

White Converted.

When Henry White, Republican mem-er of the American mission, went to Paria he shared Senator Lodge's view that the league could be discussed later on, but seen he changed when he oberved conditions. Great Britain sided with President Wilson very promptly on the necessity of making the league a vital part of the peace trenty and the resolution to that effect is now binding upon the delegates. To satisfy he purport of Senator Lodge's proposa sany tangled problems which it has already has been agreed should be left to the league when it is once created would be thrown on the table once more. Europe would regard any such action by America as bad faith and a striking disregard for the necessity of an early peace treaty.

It is easy to say "conclude terms with Germany and talk league of nations afterward, punish Germany and let the uniomats care for the rest," but most everybody in Paris who cares about seeng this war ended without the chance of another war before the ink on the seace treaty is dry realizes that unless onemy it is necessary to state specifically what shall be done with the property and territory taken from the enemy. The victors are at odds. The league of nations is the formula by which it is hoped that the world can get a preliminary peace treaty and the disposition of many vexing questions shall be distributed over future years under the eyes of all the participating members of the league.

Strictly speaking, the league of nations becomes a continuing peace conference, and just so soon as there is a defininte agreement on its powers and functions, the work of making a specific treaty with Germany will be easy.

Face Big Crisis.

It was only natural that the senators should deliver themselves of strong opinions on the particular form of the league of nations plan as presented to day, but it is very doubtful indeed if all the 27 senators whom Mr. Lodge delived to base, needed to have pleaged to have presented in the death of the ship's cook and a league to have forbidden any members of the crew askert they were forced to obey orders abourd ship at the point of a revolver. Part of the charge of murder on the high seas is based on the assertion that when Seanan Axtell Harisen jumped overband two months out of San Francisco he repented of his act and clutched a rone trailing the stern of the brigantine, beging to be hauled back on board, which Capt. Pedersen is alleged to have forbidden any members of the crew to do.

The Kochester received the ship's company of the Piake at Brest, where they had been sent by the American consultations, but it is very doubtful indeed if all the 27 senators whom Mr. Lodge delived to have pleaged to have provided to have provided the 37 senators whom Mr. Lodge de-clared to have pledged themselves in opposition would care to take the responsibility of defeating the will of Europe and the work of the Paris peace conference later on. If they do, they will put themselves in political jeopardy in the next election, for Democrats will not hesitate to say their opponents have more than justified the apprehensions of President Wilson last autumn when he asked for a Democratic congress on the ground that they would assist him in working out his peace policies more than would his opposition.

Inseparably bound up in the success consibility of defeating the will of Eu-Inseparably bound up in the success of the Paris conference is the question of an early return of all the American rees from Europe. Whether there all be a league of nations is no longer uch choice now except on the details of the league. The principle itself has been accepted. There will be a league

If the United States should block the measure the Johnson City Staff, and associates all the friendship we have gained have purchased the stock of the Bristol through participation in the war would Europe would look askance and won-der if, after all, the United States cared more for her own prosperity and material welfare than she did about the rest of the world, that if she entered the world to make the world safe for

These are the things many people in Europe have been saying about America anyway, but a return to the policy of isolation held by the United States before the European war which demonstrated how narrow the Atlantic ocean really are would only deliver the present the states the present the states of the states the present the states of the states the present the states the present the states the present the states the states the present the states really was would only destroy the pres-tige of this country abroad.

President Wilson's professions on be-

President Wilson's professions on behalf of America would be discredited of course, but it is not merely the reputation of a man, but the prestige of a nation that is now at stake. That's why most people here do not take seriously the prospect that Senator Ledge's list of 37 senators means a rejection of the forthcoming peace treaty by the United States senate. On the contrary, it would not be surprising if by the United States senate. On the contrary, it would not be surprising if every one of the 57 men would have to explain his position to his constituency in the next few weeks.

From a political point of view it may prove more embarrassing to the senators themselves than to President Wilson, for there is going to be a league of nations, and it will be established within the current year. But what is even nations, and it will be established within the current year. But what is even more interesting—the senators themselves will change. They will ratify whatever treaty comes from Paris, However much they may influence the shaping of the document, they can not take the responsibility for its rejection.

SPEEDWAY AROUSED OVER DINKY CARS

Someone said that effective Thursday, the street railway company would replace the big cars currently used on Jackson avenue with the one-truck dinky or small cars. The Speedway Civic club got busy at the home of the president, L. D. Scott, Tuesday night and protested against any deterioration in the service.

"We are having enough trouble now getting home from work" said the president, "and if they give us less car space we just can not get along."

Your body has to fight constantly against disease. It isn't always a fair fight, because constipation is a treacherous enemy that you usually don't recognize until too late.

Stagnating, poison-forming food waste in your large intestines, helps disease to attack you and hinders you from defending yourself. Such self-poisoning causes over 90% of human illness. You may be held fast for months in the grip of constipation, trying vainly to free yourself by taking castor oil, pills, salts, mineral waters, etc., in order to force the bowels to move. Not only will the constipation grow worse with the continuance of such remedies but you will be less able to defend yourself against the attack when
